1. JOHN¹ PERQUA, b. in Hesse, Germany; m. Zilphia Rhodes, d. of Peleg & Alice () Rhodes, b. 1763, in Rhode Island.

While living in Hesse, Germany, John Perqua visited a brother, then serving in one of the British regiments, and was impressed into the service. He was brought to America and served in the British Army for three years during the American Revolution. He then deserted and family tradition has it that he entered the American Army and served until the end of the war, but there are no records, official or otherwise, confirming this.

Col. Israel Angell, commander of a Rhode Island Regiment stationed in Rhode Island at the time, entered in his "Diary" under date of Aug. 6, 1779, the "Nothing remarkable happened ~~till~~ the evening there came a Deserter off from Coanicutt Island from the enemy who Swam over the Dutch Island from there to the neck, he was so weak when he landed that he could not stand for some time having Swam near three miles." This could have been the incident of the escape of John Perqua. John Rhodes was then serving under Col. Angell and it is evident that they became acquainted, this leading to the marriage of John Perqua to John Rhodes' sister, Zilphia.

He became a resident of Johnston, R.I. and while there seems to have been known as "John Pogue". He is mentioned in the Town Records of Johnston, Providence Co., R.I., as follows:

"At a Town Council held in Johnston in the County of Providence on the 12th Day of August. AD. 1786. Resolved that Caleb Remington's District of Highway begin.....and that his men be.....John Pogue.....Rhodes Strivens, Nicholas StrivensCharles Rhodes."

"At a Town Council held (by Adjournment) in Johnston in the County of Providence on the 11th Day of August 1797.....Resolved that Joshua Remington's district of Highway begin.....and that his men be.....John Rhodes, and John Pogue."

"At a Town Council held (by Special Appointment) in Johnston in the County of Providence on the 14th Day of June A.D. 1788.....Resolved that Benjamin Waterman Jun^r District of Highway begin at the head of the Road, Westerly of Peleg Williams House, and extend Easterly and Southerly on Said Road, as far as John Smith's House, and that his Men be Peleg Williams, Joshua Remington, John Rhodes, John Pogue, Caleb Williams and Peleg Rhodes."

"At a Town Council held in Johnston in the County of Providence on the 6th Day of June. 1789.....Resolved that Jeremiah Sheldon's District of Highway begin.....and that his men be.....John Pogue.....Peleg Rhodes."

"At a Town Council held in Johnston in the County of Providence on the Twenty first Day of August. 1790.....Resolved that Jeremiah Sheldon's district of highway Begin.....and that his men be.....John Pogue.....Charles Rhodes".

"At a Town Council held by Special Appointment in Johnston on the County of Providence on the 18th day of June AD. 1781.....Resolved that Samuel Kilton District of Highway Begin.....and that his men be.....John Pogue, and his Team,....."

At that time, and later, it was customary to lay out and work on highways in the manner indicated, and to assign certain residents to perform such work, possibly, as in later days, in lieu of certain road and other taxes. Of the individuals cited in these resolutions, Peleg Rhodes was his father-in-law; John and Charles Rhodes his brothers-in-law, and Rhodes and Nicholas Strivens his wife's nephews.

In 1793 he is believed to have removed to Massachusetts, and later to Vermont, subsequently settling in Saratoga County, N.Y., where most of his wife's family and relatives had just located. His residence there was in the then Town of Hadley, near the present village of South Corinth. It is said that he cut his own road through to there from the Vicinity of Fort Edward, N.Y. In 1818 that part of the town where he lived was set off as the Town of Corinth. Prior to 1801 that area was part of the Town of Greenfield.

His house appears on Samuel Geil's 1856 map of Saratoga County, on the main north-south road leading from South Corinth to Jesups Land, now the village of Corinth. It was at the first fork, about a mile north, on the left, and on a small stream, being a little way along the left hand fork branching off from the main road, now Highway 9K. The fork and roads are shown on the current U.S. topographical maps of the region. His neighbors on the main road were A. Beach to the north and S. Kelsay to the south, and on the fork, about 3/4 mile west, was J. Adams.

According to a Saratoga County history, published in 1878, there were three sons and three daughters in his family, and the only then surviving children were the son, Peter, living on the homestead, and a daughter in Illinois.

On Sept. 27, 1843, Zilphia Perqua, of Corinth, "aged about Eighty Years", made an affidavit in support of the Revolutionary pension claim of her brother, John Rhodes, then dead, stating that the "deceased was her Brother" and that when he and Nancy Fields resided in Johnston, R.I., she "was present and heard and saw the said John Rhodes and Nancy Fields united together in the Solemn Covenant of marriage" in September 1783. On Dec. 7, 1847, Nancy (Rhodes) Jones and Stephen F. Rhodes, made a statement in behalf of their father's pension claim i.e. John Rhodes, in which they referred to the affidavit filed by Zilphia Perqua, stating that "The said Zilphia Perqua is now dead."

A, 140th Regt. N.Y. Vol. Inf., and was discharged June 15, 1865. On Dec. 1, 1870 he made a Declaration for an Original Pension as Thomas Combs, æ. 32, 5' 9" in height, light complexion, brown hair, grey eyes. He gave similar details of his service in the 140th Regt., under Capt. L. B. Courtney, his place of discharge being Whitehall Hospital, Philadelphia, Pa. He also stated that "On Aug. 23, 1864 in Popple Grove Church, Va. while in camp just after being on skirmish line and in several skirmished was taken sick....from exposure and sleeping on the ground for the last preceding two months....layed for three days in his tent and was attended by the regimental surgeon and was then sent to Armory Square hospital at Washington D.C." He stated that he had been in service before, enlisting in Co. C, 2nd Regt., N.Y. Vet. Cav., July 27, 1863, discharged Mar. 28, 1864. Since leaving the service he resided in South Corinth, Town of Corinth, N.Y. and was a laborer. Feb. 9, 1881, as Dwight Combs, of South Corinth, he stated that he was a farmer and he had lived in South Corinth since æ. 12, and returned there after leaving the service; again enlisting and after the close of the war he again returned to South Corinth, where he was a day laborer and farmer. He had been discharged in New Orleans for sickness and returned home, but again enlisted at the Battle of Poplar Spring Church, Va., Sept. 30, 1864, serving to Oct. 25, 1864, when he was sent to a hospital in Washington, D.C. and had a furlough to return home. There is on file a certificate dated Dec. 26, 1864, from J. L. Perry, a physician of Saratoga Springs, N.Y., that he had granted Thomas D. Combs a 30 days leave extension due to sickness. Various supporting statements were made in his behalf, by Gifford W. Chrysler, Capt. Co. E, 2nd N.Y. Vet. Cav., on Aug. 19, 1881; Edward Edwards, Corinth, N.Y., July 15, 1882; Nathaniel M. In addition, on June 18, 1883, a petition was signed by 36 residents of the Town of Corinth, requesting the restoration of his pension, which had expired on Oct. 18, 1882, including his relatives, Peter Perqua, æ. 80; Elijah Earle, Jr., æ. 35; Nicholas Earls, æ. 37; P. A. Perqua, æ. 45; Dexter S. Place, æ. 62; Elijah Earls, æ. 63; James Perqua, æ. 54; William Pyrqua, æ. 36. He made two restoration requests, on Nov. 18, 1881 and Aug. 22, 1883. In these and all subsequent signed documents he usually used his full name, Thomas Dwight Combs, possibly because he had enlisted as Thomas Combs and as Dwight Combs. Notwithstanding all this, his claim was rejected on Jan. 18, 1884 and it was not until the following Sept. that it was allowed. On Oct. 26, 1884, he wrote from Mapleton, Grand Traverse Co., Mich., that "I came here in hopes of bettering my health it is no better I am among strangers". Also from Mapleton he wrote on Dec. 9, 1885 that "When I enlisted there was no healthier boy (for I was but Sixteen years of age) than I was in Saratoga County New York now I am almost an old man at thirty eighth". He made several requests for increases, including one on Oct. 3, 1888, æ. 41, of Mapleton, Mich.; Jan. 6, 1892, same; and on Mar. 4, 1898 he replied to a questionnaire by stating his marriage to Helen Mary Perqua by Rev. C. R. Bensmore, at South Corinth, N.Y. on Nov. 25, 1870, and had a certificate thereof. He have the names and dates of birth of his four living children, Gertrude M., Justin D., Minnie B. and Julia(?) H. On Sept. 5, 1906 he again applied for an increase, a. 59, of Mapleton, which was rejected on Apr. 15, 1907, but that of Dec. 4, 1908, a. 61, of Traverse City, Mich., was allowed, as were some others, although there were also some rejections.

Another questionnaire was answered by him on Mar. 10 1915, giving his birthplace as Fort Ann, Washington Co., N.Y., stating that his wife, Helen May Perqua, was dead, and listing his six children, with their birth dates, the first two being dead. He varied in these lists as to giving Gertrude Mary's birth as 1878 and 1879, Minnie Belle's as 1884 and 1885, and he called his youngest child Julia H. and Julia Helen. On July 9, 1908 he again requested an increase, stating his 1st ehlmement was as Dwight Combs and his 2nd as Thomas Combs, that he lived in Peninsular Twp., Mich., a farmer. On Dec. 21, 1925 he stated that he resided in Saratoga N.Y. 1865-1884, thereafter in Traverse City, Mich., and that no members of his family served in World War (I), but he had numerous nephews in it, one in the Navy and the rest in the Army. Feb. 24, 1925 his daughter, Gertrude M. Combs, a. 46, of Traverse City, stated that her mother died about 11 years previously. On Aug. 24, 1926 and July 2, 1929 he applied for an increase to $90 as totally helpless. the first was rejected on Mar. 2, 1927 and he died the week following the second, on July 8, 1929, so it was marked "abandoned".
